

The image shows the exterior of a modern building at night. The building features large glass windows with wooden frames, through which interior lights and a staircase are visible. A small green plant is positioned in front of the windows. The facade is composed of large, light-colored rectangular panels. The name 'BIBLIOTECA AVANDEVILLAS' is inscribed in dark, uppercase letters on the right side of the building. Below the name, there is a dark, rectangular entrance area. To the right of the entrance, a small, illuminated sign with the letters 'II' is visible.
